of Awards.

Washington, Jan. 23.—The Knight board is unable to agree with Secretary Daniels that naval officers who lost their ships through enemy submarine action and performed meritorious service in connection with such loss should be awarded high decorations, the senate investigating committee was told by Rear Admiral Austin M. Knight, chairman of the board. Admiral Knight said a high decoration was not deserved unless the sinking was accompanied by offensive action against the enemy.

Admiral Knight said that in the case of Commander D. W. Bagley, Secretary Daniels' brother-in-law, no decoration was recommended for any circumstance in connection with the sinking of the destroyer Jacob Jones because Commander Bagley did not engage the enemy. A navy cross was recommended for the officer, he said, for good seamanship displayed in "blowing off" the crew and passengers of the torpedoed British steamer Orama.

Officers whose vessels were torpedoed, but who by good seamanship and discipline, succeeded in saving their ships, earned the D. S. M., Admiral Knight declared.

U. S. CAPITAL TO AID EUROPEANS

Federal Reserve Banker Says It Is Necessary to Restore Markets for American Goods.

Washington, Jan. 23.—American capital will be employed in aiding Europe "to get back to productive work," not because of "attractive rates of interest," but to restore normal conditions and to open markets for American export, Governor W. P. G. Harding, of the federal reserve board said today, speaking before the second Pan-American financial congress.

We cannot, however, export things which we do not have," Governor Harding said, "and in order to provide an exportable surplus we must produce more or, failing that, consume less. During the past year we have witnessed an unprecedented era of extravagance in this country; there has been a constant rise in prices and while the value of our products expressed in dollars has been greater than ever before in history, the physical volume of goods produced has been less than the production of any year since 1916. Our domestic market has been competing with export demands, and the result has been that prices have been bid up on both the foreign and domestic consumers."

During his visit to the senate Mr. Taft addressed briefly representatives of a local committee which had invited him to talk at a mass meeting here in behalf of the treaty. He said he did not believe a compromise on the reservation affecting Article X of the League of Nations covenant would "kill" the league.

Talks With Compromise Senators at Capital Friday—Favors Early Compromise.

Washington, Jan. 23.—Former President Taft visited the capitol today and conferred with senators active in the movement for a peace treaty compromise. He had a talk with Senator McCumber, Republican, North Dakota, a "mild reservationist" leader, and later planned to see a number of senators regarding the compromise negotiations.

During his visit to the senate Mr. Taft addressed briefly representatives of a local committee which had invited him to talk at a mass meeting here in behalf of the treaty. He said he did not believe a compromise on the reservation affecting Article X of the League of Nations covenant would "kill" the league.

"The matter of the ratification of the treaty is in the hands of the senators," said Mr. Taft. "I believe that the best way is to let the knowledge of the public desire that the treaty be ratified trickle into the senators."

CHECKS; ADJOURN
UNTIL MONDAY

Ten Dollar Fine For Absence Is Not Assessed

EACH LEGISLATOR GETS
SALARY CHECK OF $1000Senate Passes Fisheries Bill
Over Veto of Governor
Cox.

Columbus, Jan. 23.—After drawing their salaries of $1,000 for the second year of the session, members of the general assembly adjourned at noon today until next Monday when they will resume consideration of taxation questions.

State Auditor Donahy authorized payment of the second year's salary of members today but did not pay them mileage for the session. This cannot be drawn until the legislature adjourns sine die.

Members who were absent without leave last week were not required to pay the $10 fines which Speaker Kimball of the house had previously announced would be taken out of their pay. The full amount of the salaries was certified to Auditor Donahy and paid by him.

Only a few minor bills were acted upon today. The senate passed the game bill over the governor's veto. It bars commercial fishermen from certain portions of the Sandusky River, the Maumee river in Toledo and the Sandusky river. Only one vote was recorded against the action. The house has already passed this bill over the governor's veto.

The senate committee on labor heard protests against a bill by Senator Miller to amend the law requiring street car companies to heat vestibules. A delegation of representatives of organized labor, including officers of the Columbus Car Men's Union opposed the bill. The amendment was sought by the Columbus Railway Light and Power company to enable it to install a special heating device in vestibules. The senate passed a bill appropriating $30,000 to repair leaks in the roof over the senate chamber, redecorate the legislative halls and install new windows.

The bill of Representative Clark, of Warren, authorizing a committee of justices of the peace in charter cities operating under the city manager plan passed the senate.

The proposal before the legislature to break the Smith tax per cent law as a means of providing relief for financially distressed cities and school districts was in the hands of a committee on conference representing the two houses today following the refusal of the senate to concur in the senate amendments to the bill.

The committee is composed of Senators Whittemore, Parrett and Agnew and Representatives Freeman, Griswold and Clark. The committee will meet next Tuesday and no action can be taken on the measure now until this committee meets. House members predicted today that the house would never act on the amendment of the Smith tax law as proposed in the bill. The senate provided that sinking fund and interest charge may be exempted from the Smith law limitation without vote of the people on bonds authorized January 20, 1920, and on 1920 deficiency bonds without a vote of the people. As the house passed the bill it was provided that the Smith law could only be applied upon vote of the people of any taxing districts. The senate held this impracticable.

Failure to amend the Smith law may cause a return to consideration of an income tax law which failed to pass the house last session. Chester Crabbe bill, introduced by a new law measure in the house last night. It provides for a flat rate of one per cent on personal incomes and incomes of corporations and partnerships, but no on dividends of corporations. Eighty per cent of the proceeds would go to the local political subdivisions and 20 per cent to the state to pay for administration.

The latest income tax bill is the work of Chester and Representative Miller of Stark county, the two Republicans in the house who voted against the proposed changes in the Smith one per cent law.

The senate passed the bill to authorize deficiency bonds to be issued for city relief in 1920.

A bill to extend present terms of county auditors to March, 1922, in order to give them free rein reappointing auditors and passing the four year terms thereafter passed the house.

Both houses were scheduled to meet this morning for short sessions and then adjourn until Monday. The general assembly dispensed of the prohibition enforcement question for good yesterday when the senate passed the new Crabbe bill by a vote of 25 to 7 without the emergency clause.

L. H. Gibson, manager of the Ohio Home Rule association, announced that a referendum would be brought on the bill and predicted that it would suffer the same fate as the original Crabbe act.

J. A. White, dry leader, said if the wet attempted a referendum on the bill they would be placed in the ridiculous position of opposing a bill which repeals the old Miller bill and two other bills which are held in the secretary of state's office awaiting referendums.

Members of the legislature had a salary raising streak last night, passing bills authorizing increases in salaries of members of the supreme court, court of appeals and common pleas judges in the six larger counties, authorizing the public utilities commission to increase assessments against railroads from $75,000 to $200,000 a year to provide salary increases for members of the utilities commission from $4,500 to $6,000 a year and passing the bill to allow universities to raise student fees in order to pay more salaries to professors.

KAISERHOF MAY BE
DRY AGENT'S OFFICE

Columbus, Jan. 23.—Shades of John Barleycorn.

The old Kaiserhof Hotel on West Gay street, long the scene of bacchanal and revelry and one of the most popular drinking places in Columbus in the olden days, may become the headquarters of federal prohibition enforcement in Ohio Office room in Columbus is scarce and State Prohibition Director J. A. Shearer reports that the Kaiserhof is about the only place available.

The general assembly from 5 to $8 a day. The judicial salary increase bill introduced by Blaine Cuyahoga only passed the house. It would give the supreme court judges $10,000 instead of $8,500 a year, court of appeals judges $9,000 instead of $6,000, and common pleas judges in Cuyahoga, Franklin, Lucas, Summit, Montgomery and Hamilton counties, $7,500 instead of $6,000 a year.

The senate passed a bill by Busby of Clark, increasing the maximum rate of interest at which a bond may be sold from 5 to 6 per cent until October, 1921, and authorizing the state highway commissioner to purchase, lease or build a garage for housing 600 trucks given to the state by the federal government.

Members of the legislature had a salary raising streak last night, passing bills authorizing increases in salaries of members of the supreme court, court of appeals and common pleas judges in the six larger counties, authorizing the public utilities commission to increase assessments against railroads from $75,000 to $200,000 a year to provide salary increases for members of the utilities commission from $4,500 to $6,000 a year and passing the bill to allow universities to raise student fees in order to pay more salaries to professors.

MOUNT VERNON
IS SOUGHT HERE

Husband Fears Mrs. Jessie Rushing Has Met With Foul Play—Leaves Two Children at Home.

Mrs. Jessie Rushing, 24, is mysteriously missing from her home in Mt. Vernon and an effort was made Friday morning to locate her in Newark. She formerly lived here and has an uncle and a sister in this city.

Her husband asked the Mt. Vernon police last night to assist in locating his wife. He said she had been missing all day. He declared that there was no domestic trouble which would cause her to leave home and that he feared that she had met with foul play.

Rushing is employed in the car repair department of the Pennsylvania shops. They moved to Mt. Vernon about four years ago. Besides the husband, there is a boy of four years and a girl of seven years left at home.

The sister, Miss Eda L. Cocanour, is an attendant at the Children's home. This morning she told the Advocate that she had learned last night of her sister's disappearance but that she knew nothing about the Mt. Vernon woman's whereabouts.

The woman's uncle, W. A. Custer, lives in Serooco avenue. Mrs. Guy Haynes, of West Main street, a friend of the woman, where it was thought Mrs. Rushing might visit if she came to Newark, said that she had not heard from her for more than a year.

SUGGESTS COURT
LABOR DISPUTES

President of Ohio Bar Association Offers New Plan In Address.

SAYS PLAN WOULD NOT SACRIFICE ANY PRINCIPLE

Declares Public Would Be Protected By Such Action.

Dayton, Jan. 23.—Submission of all agreements between capital and labor to a court of record so that they might be critically examined to see whether they are "fair and suitable to all concerned," including "the public," was advocated by Attorney Smith W. Bennett, of Columbus, president of the Ohio State Bar association at the mid winter meeting of the association here today.

It found fair and equitable to every one, the agreements should be approved by court judgment and enforced as any other judgment or decree is enforced. "This demands no change in principle during the contractual period, he said, of our government or the sacrifice of any essential element of the American system, although it might mean new machinery to facilitate collective bargaining and to meet the effects of collective disagreement," he added.

In urging adoption of "our judicial system to the new problem of settling fairly and equitably disputes between capital and labor, Mr. Bennett asserted that "no division of government is so adequately equipped for unbiased investigation of facts and conditions touching disputes of this character as the judicial. The plan for settling industrial disputes announced by President Wilson's latest industrial congress noticeably lacks means of subsequent enforcement by judicial process of the findings, judgments or decrees of the proposed industrial courts," Bennett pointed out, stating further that a plan remedying this "is necessary."

The epidemic remains in a mild form and there still is no occasion for alarm, according to Dr. John Dill Robertson, city health commissioner. The death list yesterday with a total of 10 for the 24 hour period dropped nearly 50 per cent, but the pneumonia deaths, 42, increased more than 100 per cent.

The shortage of trained nurses again became critical today.

Judging from reports from druggists who are constantly in direct touch with the public, there is some preparation that has been very successful in overcoming these conditions. The mild and healing influence of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable record of success.

An examining physician for one of the prominent Life Insurance Companies, in an interview of the subject, made the astonishing statement that one reason why so many applicants for insurance are rejected is because kidney trouble is so common to the American people, and the large majority of those whose applications are declined do not even suspect that they have the disease. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is on sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large. However, if you wish first to test this preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.

Readers' Viewpoint

Editor of the Advocate: In an editorial the Advocate asks the question, "What has become of the memorial for the ex-service men?" This brings to my mind as it has brought to the minds of most all other citizens that we should not forget, but go ahead and erect or procure some suitable memorial for our returned soldiers and sailors. I think we are all of one mind as to this proposition.

The question is now raised as to what kind of a memorial would be best suited. To answer this, it is my opinion, we should consult the wishes of the ones in whose honor it is to be procured.

Practically all of these ex-service men are young men, who for our country's benefit, should be kept together as much as possible for it is to them that we must look for the preservation of our American ideas, ideals and traditions. As a unit they are against all forms of radicalism that tends toward anarchy and Bolshevism. It is to them we look for protection against either no government or a lawless government, and it appears to me that they are the future of our country. For this reason, and to show them the gratitude we feel towards them for their self sacrifice, we should give them a memorial.

Now to my mind the best memorial we could provide for them would be some permanent quarters in which they could have their meetings in which they seek to carry out the projects for America's interest, and also for their recreation and amusement. Newark Post No. 85 of the American Legion has already sanctioned this idea, as they have already given an entertainment to raise funds for a club room. It seems to me that he could raise sufficient funds to purchase a house, say the Wright house on Hudson avenue, or some other suitable place, and furnish the lower floors of this house for reception rooms, card rooms, etc., and the upper floor to be made into a billiard hall. This would give them a beautiful home and I am sure it would be approved and appreciated by every soldier and sailor for whose benefit it was procured.

Let this be a memorial to all the soldiers and sailors of Licking county, giving to any within the limits of this county the privileges of this club house.

My idea is to give them something that would be of use to them and keep them together. It seems to me that we should do this and do it at once.

WILLIAM C. MILLER.

Library and Soldiers Memorial.
Editor of the Advocate: Referring to your recent editorial inquiry about the proposed soldiers' memorial, why not establish a new home for the public library and give the world war soldiers the space in Memorial Auditorium now occupied by the library? That's the proper place to house the Legion and the Library ought to have a home of its own anyway. C. S. H.

SOLDIERS GET DENTAL WORK AT GOVT. EXPENSE

Newark and Licking county men who saw service in the world war will be able to have dental work done at the expense of the government, under arrangement by the war department with Dr. W. H. Sedgwick of this city. Announcement was made some weeks ago of the appointment of Dr. Sedgwick as dentist for the service men, but at that time Dr. Sedgwick was without full details of the plan.

In a bulletin issued by the department, announcing the appointment of the Newark dentist, it is stated that all men with "c-numbers" that is, those men who have filed claims for medical or dental service, can apply to Dr. Sedgwick for such dental work as needed.

Men in need of the work, and who have not already made application for it, can make the necessary arrangements by seeing Dr. Sedgwick at his offices in the Hibbert and Shaus building.

The bulletin announcing the dentist's appointment, states that "none but the highest type of dentists has been employed, those who are able to meet all requirements."

The instructions to the dentist directs him to treat all such patients the same as private patients, showing them the same courtesy and doing the same quality of work.

Already a number of patients have been treated under this arrangement and it is believed that when the plan becomes more generally known, that more of the ex-service men will take advantage of the opportunity offered.

THREE ENTER ARMY; ALL OHIO MEN IN SAME UNIT

The following named men were accepted yesterday by Sergeant Barlow of the local army recruiting station. They were sent to Columbus barracks. Frank R. Camerding, asked for service in the field artillery on the Mexican border. He enlisted for one year. His home is at 105 Summit street and is a veteran of the 134th field artillery, 27th division.

Lester A. Hardough of Granville, enlisted for one year in the infantry, with view to transfer to chemical warfare service.

Michael M. Macisto, whose home is in Mt. Vernon also signed for one year in the coast wise service. These two men as soon as they can be given a brief period of instruction and supplied with clothing and necessary accoutrements will proceed to Lakehurst proving grounds, New Jersey.

According to recent war department instructions received by Sergeant Barlow, men from Ohio, who do not want special assignment on account of educational work at trade schools will be assigned to the following organizations: Second and 40th infantry, Camp Sherman, seventh field artillery, Camp Taylor, fourteenth field artillery, Ft. Sill, Oklahoma and the seventh cavalry, Texas. The purpose of this is to build these regiments from Ohio men securing close association of interest and high spirit de corps.

Discovery of Asphalt.
Asphalt, with which so many roads are paved, was found by accident. For a century in Switzerland natural rock asphalt was used to extract the rich stores of bitumen it contained. It was noticed that pieces which fell from the wagons and were crushed by the wheels formed a marvelously fine road and this led to its adoption as a road material.

Fuel in Scandinavia.
In Scandinavia wood is the usual fuel, while the towns and villages are electrically lighted by waterpower. Norway has no coal, but Sweden has quite lately discovered that she has good supplies.

INDIAN WINS BY OLD-TIME TRICK

Slaps Bowser on Back in Immitation of Referee's Decision Then Flops Local Wrestler.

A thirty-pound handicap was too much for Paul Bowser, and he went down to defeat at the hands of Chief Montour last night at the Auditorium. The match was witnessed by the largest crowd of the season.

Clarence Miller and Whitley De Long, weighing 150 pounds, went the limit without a fall.

William Gallagher met George Papayus. Gallagher won the first fall with a scissors and arm lock and the second fall was won by the Greek after he had slammed Gallagher off the mat, the latter being stunned. He was unable to continue the match and the decision was given to Pappus.

In the main event the Indian won the first fall in 31 minutes and 30 seconds with a body scissors and double arm lock. The second fall was won by Bowser after 17 minutes, after the Indian had a scissors on Bowser's body. Bowser regained his feet, the Indian keeping the scissors. Bowser pinned the Indian's shoulders to the mat from the standing position.

For the third fall, after 16 1/2 minutes work, Bowser had the big chief all but winded. The Indian was on his back and he was holding Bowser in a tight embrace. Montour extended an arm and slapped Bowser on the back, as the referee does in giving a decision. The big redskin dropped his arms. Bowser relaxed his hold and with the agility of a cat the chief squirmed, threw Bowser over, pinned his shoulders to the mat.

Cliff Brinckley of Columbus refereed the match.

Tonight's Games.
Printers vs. B. & O. Denison vs.
Wehrle and American Bottle.

The opening game last night found the two cellar teams at play. The fast team play developed by the golf men soon proved their superiority to the glass boys. Stableman's long shots puzzled the Holophane squad and his points alone were sufficient to win the game. Broome at center kept up the pace, and nearly all the members of the golfers contributed. The Wehrle team again led the glass men. Cochran registered the only point for his team in the second half. Final score—Burke Golf 31, Holophane 7.

The results of the second game show that no team in the Industrial league is immune from defeat. In fact it is the second time the American Bottle team were led to the short end of the score. By losing the A. B. C. team drop to second place and the B. & O. boys squeeze up into the leadership. Wehrle's speedy team work and all round good basket shooting kept them in the lead throughout the game. The entire shooting force of the bottle team was off color.

Huffman's long shots fell short of the mark and Cade's lifts rolled around the rim in the most teasing manner without tallying. The entire game was exceptionally clean and there wasn't a dull moment during the battle. Score, first half—Wehrle 16, American Bottle 8.

DENISON TEAM WILL PLAY HERE TONIGHT

Coach Livingston of the Denison Reds will bring with him a squad of 15 members to take part in the game tonight at Hickey hall. On account of several of the Hickey team on the sick list the Wehrle quintette will be seen in action against the Granville boys. Grieser announced last night that the Wehrle team will stack up against the college boys in the first half of the game, and the American Bottle squad will finish out the game.

The first game of the evening will bring the Printers team into action for the first time. The Printers were with a postponed game by the retired Truck team. Should the B. & O. team win this contest it will place them "on velvet" in first place in the Industrial league standing. This game will come at 7:30 and the "bottle" game will follow starting about 8:15. The usual industrial games admission fee will hold.

A SLIGHT NOISE FRIGHTENED HER

So Nervous, Slept Poorly and Slightest Noise Made Her Jump.

APPETITE GONE ATE NOTHING SOME DAYS.

"I certainly was nervous," declared Mrs. Elizabeth Neuman, who for some time had been bothered with poor health.

"I was so nervous I believe I could hear a pin drop anywhere and nights I was so restless I could not sleep well and would wake up tired and exhausted. I also had no appetite and would never get hungry. I often would go to whole day without eating, but if there are any more people like me, they surely want to get a bottle of this new remedy. It is called Earle's Hypo-Cod and I never saw or heard of anything like it. I now have a splendid appetite and find it has helped my nerves a great deal. I sleep through the night and wake up as refreshed and strong as can be. This is wonderful when you remember that I had become so weak and had I couldn't do my washing any more and had to get a power washer. "I also had rheumatism in my arms so bad at times that I could not raise my arms to comb my hair mornings, but that is all gone away and I'm feeling splendid," continued Mr. Neuman who is a chain maker at the American Chain Co. plant she has been much improved.

Any woman so bothered can readily improve her health by taking the same splendid remedy. Earle's Hypo-Cod isn't a patent medicine. The formula appears on each bottle. It contains Syrup of Hypophosphites, cod liver oil extract, wild cherry bark, malt, iron, and extra selectberry wine. A pleasant tasting yet powerful tonic, especially fine this year of year. Earle's Hypo-Cod is sold by all good druggists and the leading druggists in all nearby towns. Price $1.25, plus 5c war tax—Adv.

The census takers are enumerating homes on which mortgages have been placed. Formerly many thrifty people felt a slight element of disgrace in having mortgage on their dwellings. Today the mortgage is often a sign of progress and ambition.

The meaning of a mortgage may be that a family has become tired of drifting, and have begun an effort to own the home and become permanent citizens in some good town.

A farm mortgage is commonly a sign that a man is buying more equipment, and putting his land in shape to produce more liberally.

There will be no reason for alarm if the census shows more mortgages. The bank men, who know whether people are paying off old loans on salting money back into property, are the only ones who know whether this development is wholly sound or not.

It gives a thrill to every American heart, to see how many patriots are willing at the cost of great personal sacrifice and loss, to accept a nomination for president.

The small boy who is trying to get away after performing his mischievous pranks, does not object to the wearing of hobbie skirts by his female pursuers.

THE PLURAL VOTE.

(Philadelphia Record)
No man in good faith objects to the peace treaty because England may have six votes in the Council of the League of Nations. The objection is made dishonestly.

It is perfectly well known to every one who has paid any attention to the treaty that the action of the Council in any matter of importance must be unanimous. If the British Empire had six votes in the Council, they could not outvote the United States. The assent of the American member of the Council would be required for the admission of any new members.

The provision that self-governing colonies and dependencies may be members of the League was not obtained by Great Britain to increase its own power, but by the semi-independent British dependencies to secure a voice in the deliberations of the League; it was demanded by the dependencies as a recognition of their separate rights and qualified independence, and their unwillingness to submit all their interests to the representation of the British member.

If the British Empire had six votes in the Council it would not enable it to outvote any member with a single vote, but it would enhance the difficulty, to Great Britain as well as to any other nation, of securing unanimity.

Furthermore, the United States can control six votes if it wishes to. The following extract is from an article by Professor Albert Bushnell Hart in The New York Times of October 26:
"A third and more serious answer to Senator Johnson has hitherto been left out in the cold. It has been carefully neglected by the enemies of the League, because it oversteps all their appeals on this point, and the spellbinders of the League find it because it is based upon a disagreeable truth which it is thought inadvisable to mention in political American circles. That truth may be brought out clearly by a little rearrangement and indenting of the names of a few of the 'nation signers' to the treaty of peace, as follows: United States, Cuba, Panama, Dominican Republic, Nicaragua, Haiti.

The change of order simply calls attention to the fact that the United States has no right to complain that the British Empire controls five extra votes in the assembly of nations, inasmuch as the United States also controls five votes among its protectorates, and has a much greater assurance that nobody will break away from the gang. The paramount influence of the United States in those five countries is a line of policy steadily followed by four successive Presidents; it has been confirmed in every case by treaties duly ratified by the Senate, and Congress has without a whimper provided the troops necessary to keep the protectorates contented.

The objection to the possible six votes of the British Empire is worthless, because the six votes could not overcome our one, because the representation of Canada, Australia and other dependencies was demanded in their own interest, and not that of Great Britain, and because we can get six votes if the British Empire does.

A GIFT OF TREES.
(Ohio State Journal)
Sentiment and value show in the presentation of thirty-five million trees and association to the governments of Great Britain, France and Belgium, that the country that sent soldiers to help win the war might help restore the forests sacrificed to war. The value of the gift is obvious for each of the countries involved. The gift is a symbol of the sentiment of the gift when he said they would be a memorial, a sign of ever-renewing life, a symbol that the men who stopped the Hun had not died in vain, and a hundred years from now would tell in full volume the glory of all those who heard the call of human duty across 3,000 miles of water. There could be no more enduring or fitting monument, he said, than the "tree that looks at God all day and lifts its leafy arms to pray."

The public is asked to take pains to address letters more correctly, but most people here in Newark find that their bills come through very promptly.

Some people can't work long hours, as it takes 'em so much time to spend their money.

Legal delays and complicated procedure deny justice in many small cases. A recent report published by the Carnegie Foundation gives the instance of a wage earner who got a judgment for $10. By appeals and postponements, the case dragged along, and it took 21 months to collect the money. The plaintiff and his attorney had to spend eleven days in court.

It is surprising that many people say there is one justice for the poor, and another for the rich? The courts in such a case intend to be fair, but complicated procedure defeats the ends of justice.

A practical suggestion has been offered to the Massachusetts legislature by a special commission, to control procedure in suits for not over $25. Under the bill proposed, parties to such disputes would do directly before the judge and tell him their stories without assistance by lawyers, and let the judge settle the matter then and there. There should be no expense but postage.

Some states may already have legislation by which these small claims can be settled inexpensively. Yet as a whole the costs and lawyers fees for fighting a small claim, eat up what can be collected. Lawyers should not be blamed for urging business men to fight these little claims as a matter of principle, since the man who pushes a dishonest or stubborn debtor performs a public service. But the poor man can't afford the time and expense.

The new municipal court of this city taking over the jurisdiction of the justices of the peace and some of the duties heretofore performed by the mayor, has authority to try cases in which the amount involved is not more than $1000. This makes the new court a valuable adjunct to local court procedure as it will relieve the congested condition of the higher courts. This city's first municipal court is presided over by an able lawyer and a man of the strictest integrity—Frank A. Bolton.

POOR SPELLERS.

Returns made to boards of health are said to show that even people as well educated as physicians, make ridiculous errors in spelling. One physician reported a case of "bronco pneumonia," another one of "tifoid fever," and so on.

One woman says she sees no reason for spelling "pneumonia" with a n. "They don't pronounce it," she persists, "so what's the use of spelling it that way?"

Some people feel it wastes time to require people to spend so much time learning spelling. Yet you never can create a phonetic system so perfect that the spelling of all words will be obvious.

The person who applies for a job with a badly spelled letter, is turned down as ignorant and careless. The school that forgets that fact fails to prepare its graduates for life.

Some people can't work long hours, as it takes 'em so much time to spend their money.

MORTGAGED HOMES.

The census takers are enumerating homes on which mortgages have been placed. Formerly many thrifty people felt a slight element of disgrace in having mortgage on their dwellings. Today the mortgage is often a sign of progress and ambition.

The meaning of a mortgage may be that a family has become tired of drifting, and have begun an effort to own the home and become permanent citizens in some good town.

A farm mortgage is commonly a sign that a man is buying more equipment, and putting his land in shape to produce more liberally.

There will be no reason for alarm if the census shows more mortgages. The bank men, who know whether people are paying off old loans on salting money back into property, are the only ones who know whether this development is wholly sound or not.

It gives a thrill to every American heart, to see how many patriots are willing at the cost of great personal sacrifice and loss, to accept a nomination for president.

The small boy who is trying to get away after performing his mischievous pranks, does not object to the wearing of hobbie skirts by his female pursuers.

THE PLURAL VOTE.

(Philadelphia Record)
No man in good faith objects to the peace treaty because England may have six votes in the Council of the League of Nations. The objection is made dishonestly.

It is perfectly well known to every one who has paid any attention to the treaty that the action of the Council in any matter of importance must be unanimous. If the British Empire had six votes in the Council, they could not outvote the United States. The assent of the American member of the Council would be required for the admission of any new members.

The provision that self-governing colonies and dependencies may be members of the League was not obtained by Great Britain to increase its own power, but by the semi-independent British dependencies to secure a voice in the deliberations of the League; it was demanded by the dependencies as a recognition of their separate rights and qualified independence, and their unwillingness to submit all their interests to the representation of the British member.

If the British Empire had six votes in the Council it would not enable it to outvote any member with a single vote, but it would enhance the difficulty, to Great Britain as well as to any other nation, of securing unanimity.

Furthermore, the United States can control six votes if it wishes to. The following extract is from an article by Professor Albert Bushnell Hart in The New York Times of October 26:
"A third and more serious answer to Senator Johnson has hitherto been left out in the cold. It has been carefully neglected by the enemies of the League, because it oversteps all their appeals on this point, and the spellbinders of the League find it because it is based upon a disagreeable truth which it is thought inadvisable to mention in political American circles. That truth may be brought out clearly by a little rearrangement and indenting of the names of a few of the 'nation signers' to the treaty of peace, as follows: United States, Cuba, Panama, Dominican Republic, Nicaragua, Haiti.

The change of order simply calls attention to the fact that the United States has no right to complain that the British Empire controls five extra votes in the assembly of nations, inasmuch as the United States also controls five votes among its protectorates, and has a much greater assurance that nobody will break away from the gang. The paramount influence of the United States in those five countries is a line of policy steadily followed by four successive Presidents; it has been confirmed in every case by treaties duly ratified by the Senate, and Congress has without a whimper provided the troops necessary to keep the protectorates contented.

The objection to the possible six votes of the British Empire is worthless, because the six votes could not overcome our one, because the representation of Canada, Australia and other dependencies was demanded in their own interest, and not that of Great Britain, and because we can get six votes if the British Empire does.

A GIFT OF TREES.
Sentiment and value show in the presentation of thirty-five million trees and association to the governments of Great Britain, France and Belgium, that the country that sent soldiers to help win the war might help restore the forests sacrificed to war. The value of the gift is obvious for each of the countries involved. The gift is a symbol of the sentiment of the gift when he said they would be a memorial, a sign of ever-renewing life, a symbol that the men who stopped the Hun had not died in vain, and a hundred years from now would tell in full volume the glory of all those who heard the call of human duty across 3,000 miles of water. There could be no more enduring or fitting monument, he said, than the "tree that looks at God all day and lifts its leafy arms to pray."

Legal delays and complicated procedure deny justice in many small cases. A recent report published by the Carnegie Foundation gives the instance of a wage earner who got a judgment for $10. By appeals and postponements, the case dragged along, and it took 21 months to collect the money. The plaintiff and his attorney had to spend eleven days in court.

It is surprising that many people say there is one justice for the poor, and another for the rich? The courts in such a case intend to be fair, but complicated procedure defeats the ends of justice.

A practical suggestion has been offered to the Massachusetts legislature by a special commission, to control procedure in suits for not over $25. Under the bill proposed, parties to such disputes would do directly before the judge and tell him their stories without assistance by lawyers, and let the judge settle the matter then and there. There should be no expense but postage.

Some states may already have legislation by which these small claims can be settled inexpensively. Yet as a whole the costs and lawyers fees for fighting a small claim, eat up what can be collected. Lawyers should not be blamed for urging business men to fight these little claims as a matter of principle, since the man who pushes a dishonest or stubborn debtor performs a public service. But the poor man can't afford the time and expense.

The new municipal court of this city taking over the jurisdiction of the justices of the peace and some of the duties heretofore performed by the mayor, has authority to try cases in which the amount involved is not more than $1000. This makes the new court a valuable adjunct to local court procedure as it will relieve the congested condition of the higher courts. This city's first municipal court is presided over by an able lawyer and a man of the strictest integrity—Frank A. Bolton.

Hunting.
We're fond of sport but now, alas, No more we hunt the Missing Link. For things have come to such a pass We only hunt the missing drink.

He Was a Tourist and He Took Us In.
Aunt Caline says: "T'other nite I an Zeke was a-reading what Mr. St. Clair had wrote about Newark an' Zeke says, 'Caline, what do you think about it?' says he. An' I says, 'Well, like most everything else, they's two sides to it, an' he's been a-taking the tourist's side, which was but nat'ral.' I says, An' then I sent on a reminder Zeke about how the tourists used to act down in Florida when we was there. When we first went down there, we tried to be friendly an' hospit' to all the strangers that come. But it wasn't long afore we found out that we didn't dast to be anyways kind to 'em. They'd walk over our flower beds, an' quite brazen ast fer oranges an' sich. One woman come along one day with children an' stood on a pretty patch o' blue lupin whilst they took a bunch o' bananas an' wishit they was ripe so's they could pick 'em. Our neighbors set a basket o' nice oranges 'longside o' the road an' put up a card sayin' 'Take 'em.' An' they's no snakes if they didn't take basket an' all! So I an' Zeke is about fed up on tourists.

To Willie Gettit.
Well, Bill, I've not forgotten you, Nor am I scared away; I gave up writing, that is true, But changed my mind today. I ran across that little note You sent to Aunt Caline, And I must say it got my goat. Although you thought 'twas fine. It is your masterpiece, of course, No one could write a better. Caline will hasten her divorce When she receives that letter. I thought that Aunt Caline would say 'Would get that done 'next week.' But I knew she would not get through With 'buying pills for Zeke. So do not fret now, Willie dear, While he remains on deck. For if he finds that you are near, He'll surely wring your neck. Don't borrow any trouble, Bill. 'Twill come quite soon enough; For poor old Zeke has made his will, I'll bet a pinch of snuff. And when Caline has married me, I'll get a share, no tellin'. Then Willie, I'll be kind, you see, And ask you to the bellin'. Please pardon what I called you once, But, thank you, I'm no money, I almost never ast the dunces, Except when I get spunky. Well, Bill, I now shall have to stop, For I must milk my cow. The little pigs, too, must slop, I'll bid you goodbye, an' sing— —Looney Follem, Toboso, O.

The entertainment given by the Newark lodge degree team of the Knights of Pythias last night at the Pythian hall was witnessed by a large audience and the several numbers on the program were well received.

Miss Edith Hague rendered a vocal selection and Miss Lillian MacNealy a reading. Paul Brown made a big "hit" in a monologue stunt. The Diamond "H" quartet gave a number of catchy songs. Frank Strear sang two of his popular ballads. A duet by Gruber and O'Neil in which O'Neil impersonated an Italian woman, brought down the house. A ten-piece Pythian orchestra added much to the program in a number of beautiful selections which they gave.

The drama entitled, "The Lesson of Friendship," under the direction of J. B. Lentz, was highly appreciated by all. Al. B. Davis as Damon, F. C. Barber as Pythias, E. L. Schnaidt as Dyonisios, C. C. Hupp as Philistius presented their parts well. The drill team under the command of Captain Earl Rarick, put on a splendid exhibition. The exhibition will be repeated this evening at 8 o'clock.

Poor Places for Pictures.

The Corcoran art gallery says that it is harmful to an oil painting to hang it near a window where it will be exposed to the sun, or to be hung near a stove or radiator, as all heat agencies tend to dry the oil and make the painting crack.

Chicago Grain Review.
Chicago, Jan. 23.—Bullish sentiment revived in the corn market today helped by gossip that the stoppage of east-bound grain shipments would last only for a short time. Opening prices, which varied from the same as yesterday's finish to 3-8 higher, with May 13 1/2 to 14 1/8 and July 13 1/2 to 14 1/8, were followed by moderate upticks all around.
Oats: Hardened with corn. After opening unchanged to 2 cents off, including May at 81 7/8 to 82 cents, the market scored a further advance. Provisions were lower in sympathy with hog values. Lard led the decline.

Boston Wool Market.
Boston, Jan. 23.—The Commercial Bulletin tomorrow will say: "Interest of the wool trade centered during the past week chiefly upon the British government auction. Prices for fine wools showed an advance, and recent sales, the wool being especially choice. Medium wools were about steady and heavy wools were showing a slight decline. The primary market is generally strong on the fine wools. Manufacturers report little change in the situation."

Wall Street.
New York, Jan. 23.—Contrary to general expectations the further advance in redoubts announced last yesterday by the Federal Reserve Bank exerted only a moderate adverse influence on the opening of today's stock market. Prices were mainly lower but the more extreme declines, mainly from 1 to 2 1/2 points in General Motors, Texas company, Colorado Fuel and several of the mining specialties, were ascribed to causes remote from money conditions. Seasoned industrialists were steady and investment funds firm, though again inactive. Most losses were cancelled within the first half hour.

The bears made an early involuntary contribution to the rally which was led by higher priced stocks and oils. Prices reacted again with the approach of noon, pressure concentrating in the motor group shipments and secondary steels. Heavy trading in Liberty bonds and Victory notes, mostly at prices ascribed to the higher discount applicable to those securities.

Several new low records were made by the war flotations. Liberty seconds 1-4s falling to 90.90.

Imparting Information.
The little boy across the way came in to call on me when I was baking doughnuts. He informed me his mother made doughnuts, too. After a silence he said: "She lets me eat only three when she bakes them." After another silence he added: "She didn't bake any this week yet."—Chicago American.

[National Crop Improvement Service.]
DON'T drive the baby away from the piano. Many mothers, fathers and big brothers scold the child when he tries to give natural expression to the music which is in him by drumming on the piano.

"If the older ones would only show the baby every time he tries to play how to make harmonious music instead of discords he would form an early love for music which would be a joy forever."
"There is that in the human soul which can find expression only in music and there is that in every breast which cannot be satisfied by music created by others. Self-expression in music is one of the greatest comforts in life."

"Any man or woman who has mastered the piano can find succor from sorrow at any time by playing the piano according to his state of mind. There is no instrument which expresses so many moods and dreams."

CITY SERVICE EARNINGS LARGE.
Columbus, Jan. 23.—The City Service company closed the year with earnings showing December the biggest month since May. Gross earnings for December were $1,757,622, an increase of $144,541 over November, 1919. Earnings available for reserves, dividends on common stock and surplus for December were $1,154,675, a gain of $107,247 over the preceding month.

Bringing the Dead to Life.
The remarkable claim of ability to bring the dead back to life has been made by a Burmese lady doctor at Rangoon. The treatment is said to consist of seven days' application of internal and external remedies. The lady states that when revived the dead person has a new mind and better features, but the treatment must be continued for a month.

When Paper Really Was Scarce.
About twenty years ago paper was so dear in this country that butchers used to give their customers the meat wrapped up in a large vegetable leaf.

Alexandria Had First Museum.
The first museum was part of the palace of Alexandria, where learned men were maintained at the public cost, just as eminent public servants were in the Prytaneum at Athens. Its foundation is attributed to Ptolemy Philadelphus about 280 B. C.

Food Value of Oatmeal.
The value of oatmeal as a human food is established by Drs. H. C. Sherman, J. C. Winters and V. Phillips in the Journal of Biological Chemistry. But it needs milk in addition, and the two together can furnish a man with all the protein he needs.

Umbrellas.
Umbrellas should be washed occasionally. Stand them open, in a bathtub, scrub them with a small hand scrub brush and rinse with a bath spray.

LEGAL NOTICE.
State of Ohio, Licking County, Court of Common Pleas.
Mary Niver, Plaintiff.
Ralph Niver, Defendant.

The defendant Ralph Niver, whose place of residence is unknown to the plaintiff, will take notice that the plaintiff has filed a petition in the Common Pleas Court of Licking County, Ohio, praying to be divorced from said defendant and restored to her maiden name, on the ground of three years gross neglect of duty and three years willful absence. Said petition will be for hearing after six weeks from the 18th day of December, 1919. By B. G. Smythe, her attorney. 12-19-Fri-67 are scarcely two persons who play the piano with the same feeling and expression.

"Of course the music of the mechanical players is better than no music at all and a great many people have obtained a splendid musical education so that they know all of the composers and their works from that source."
"But there is no accomplishment which means so much to the player himself and to all of his friends as a skillful playing of the piano. Always, popular, always in demand, always a welcomed guest—is the piano player."
"Don't discourage the children. If they show any aptitude whatever let them learn the piano."
"Buy yourself a piano even though you may be in advanced years," says Frank L. Loefer, V. P. American Steel & Wire Company. "It will be a boon of delight to earn the coin of song heart through days when everything may seem dull and dreary."

WOMEN OF OHIO—

What Your Neighbors Say

Cleveland, Ohio:—"In my early married life I had woman's trouble. I took medicine of different kinds but did not get any relief until I began taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and two bottles completely cured me of my weakness and I afterward became the mother of strong, healthy children. Favorite Prescription made a new woman of me and I am glad to recommend it. I want to say that women who are weak and ailing should give this wonderful woman's medicine a trial."—Mrs. EMMA STROEMETER, 2160 E. 82nd St.

Findlay, Ohio:—"For many years I have been a user of Dr. Pierce's medicines and have found them excellent. I have taken Favorite Prescription for an ailment from which so many women suffer and it proved very beneficial. I have taken the Golden Medical Discovery and found it excellent as a spring tonic or blood purifier and for deep-seated coughs."

"I found the Pleasant Pellets especially good for constipation, bilious attacks and as a liver regulator."

"The above medicines are all good and I take pleasure in recommending them to others."—Mrs. MARY VESTON, 339 Wilson St.

Elyria, Ohio:—"Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the very best tonic a woman can take. I had become all run-down and so nervous I could not sleep. I had no appetite and having heard of Favorite Prescription I decided to give it a trial, and the results were very satisfactory to me for it built me up and made me feel like a different person."—Miss J. T. HUBERT, 230 Winckles St.

AMUSEMENTS

AUDITORIUM.

"Fedora."
The admirers of Pauline Frederick, the beautiful and talented cinema star appearing in Paramount pictures, few of whom neglected the opportunity recently presented to them to see her in "La Tosca" and "Resurrection," when those excellent photoplays were displayed at the Auditorium theater, will be delighted to learn that she will be seen at the same playhouse today and tomorrow in a picturization of another of Sardou's great plays, "Fedora," which was for years the starring vehicle for Sarah Bernhardt and the late Fanny Datoport.

Miss Frederick is essentially a dramatic actress with beauty and physique in exquisite harmony with the tragic roles she portrays. In a recent interview Miss er. In arriving at the solution of the murder it is necessary for her to overcome many obstacles, chiefly those of city grafters, unwholesome parental influences and an unscrupulous mountaineer who marries her mother.

ALHAMBRA.

"The Gay Lord Quex."
A rash and genial lover is always a popular idol. His very fickleness is enchanting. For the man who gives his sweetheart something to worry about is always in her thoughts. Sir Arthur Wing Pinero, the eminent English dramatist, created this type of hero in the new Tom Moore picture, "The Gay Lord Quex," which was played on the stage in both England and America. The film production will be presented by Goldwyn at the Alhambra theater.

moratory and descriptive writing. His collection of game photographs is known to be the largest in America. "Paid in Advance" is rich in situations and scenes. The story begins in the far country of Canada and enough of the story is laid there to give an excellent knowledge of the manners and customs of the heterogeneous people who inhabited the region. Then the scenes shift to Klondike, and portray in all its wickedness and tawdry allurements the gold mining district at Dawson City.

LYRIC.

There will be a complete change of bill at the Lyric theater this evening, when Fred Hurley's "Oh, Listen Girls" will present their best number of the week's program. The film feature will be "The Masked Rider."

GRAND.

This evening marks the final appearance of Harry T. Morey in "In Honor of Web." The cast includes Gladden

MARY PICKFORD IN "HEART O' THE HILLS"

Frederick stated that she invariably seeks to feel the character she portrays, because, in her judgment, no characterization is artistic unless its subtlety has been probed to its depth, and the various emotions it should evoke, have been thoroughly mastered by the player.

"The various shades of human emotions which the story of 'Fedora' discloses," said Miss Frederick, "are of an extremely subtle nature, and their proper expression can be psychologically insured only after they have been deeply studied. These dark and light shades are especially conspicuous in the character of this Russian Princess, whose hopes for a happy marriage are wrecked when her fiancé is murdered, as she believes, by anarchists, in revenge for the acts of his father, who is a chief of police. She swears to bring the assassin to justice and begins a relentless search for the murderer."

beginning today sure. The story of the charming lover's last escapade follows: Lord Quex is a likeable young man whose company is entirely pleasing to the older members of London society and more or less sought by the younger set, especially the girls. This romantic element appeals to the spirited young fellow, and he becomes a lover of wide scope, never serious, but always involved. His activities in this line earn for him the name of "The Gay Lord Quex."

Prizma, also Current Events are also shown.

"The Phantom Melody."
Monroe Salisbury's latest Universal production, "The Phantom Melody," is heralded as an unusually fine production. F. McGrew Willis wrote the story and Douglas Gerrard directed it. The star is supported by a splendid cast, including Barney Sherry, Jean Calhoun, Charles West, Ray Gallagher, Lois Lee, Joseph Ray and Milton Markwell. It will be seen at the Alhambra Sunday.

"The Phantom Melody" is a romantic drama with its scenes laid in modern Italy. It is rich in colorful backgrounds, tense with powerful situations, and its plot is sure to keep any audience interested.

Count di Montrone, an Italian nobleman, is in love with his ward, Mary Drake, the daughter of an English Baronet, who makes his home in Italy. Owing to the difference in their ages the Count does not declare his feelings, believing her to be in love with his cousin, Giorgetto, who is only wooing her for her vast estate. The world war has broken out and the Count leaves for the front, but Giorgetto engages in riotous living at Monte Carlo, persuading Mary's brother, Oliver, by trickery, to go to the front in his place.

James, one of the best men in his line in the movies. In addition there is being shown a clever Christie comedy, "The Married Wife." Tomorrow Bully Duncan in "Smashing Barriers," Snub Pollard in a good comedy and James Aubrey in a Big V comedy.

GEM.

One of the most remarkable contrasts in character, presented by the same actress in one screen production, is shown by Gladys Brockwell in "Flames of Flesh," a William Fox picture that is to be presented at the Gem theater Monday. Miss Brockwell is seen first as a Puritan maiden of New England, and later as this girl transformed into the leading courtesan of Paris.

LAST OF GREAT MONOPOLY

Three Million Acres of Hudson's Bay
Company's Land to Be Given
Over to Farming.

When King Charles II. made a grant of land in America to "The Governor and Company of Adventurers of England Trading into Hudson's Bay" he generously turned over to them about three-quarters of North America, an empire which time has diminished until now the Hudson's Bay company is selling to settlers the rich acres which it still retained after surrendering its authority over its Canadian holdings to the Dominion government, fifty years ago, for an indemnity of $1,500,000. Little enough did Charles, in 1670, imagine the future history of the trading company he had established; still less could he have pictured the chain of retail department stores in the twentieth century. Over 3,000,000 acres of fertile land, the last substantial fraction of King Charles' grant, is being sold to farmers; and as it has lain uncultivated since the days of the Indians, it is pleasant to think that the farmers will soon be busy on it.

Bits of Secret Far Eastern History.
The after-dinner confidential chat of a British naval officer with a French bluejacket at a Sydney ball in 1853 cost the British empire New Caledonia. Our French friend had for many days cast longing eyes on Captain Cook's discovery of 1794. So had we. But the hint given of our intention to annex enabled our rivals to land and take possession three hours before we came to the scene. Thus we lost not only New Caledonia and the adjacent isles, but the Loyalty group and the New Hebrides; for it is an open secret that the throat of the impossible New Hebrides condominium will soon be cut and France will gather in this gem of the Pacific. It may bring balm to remember that as the French beat us on the post for New Caledonia so we beat them by a nose for Maoriland in almost exactly the same way.—Sydney Bulletin.

Electric Fire Logs.
Electric fire logs, which have been used on the stage for several years, are now available for other uses. These fire logs are made of imitation wood, consisting of three or more logs naturally grouped for interior fireplaces and outdoor campfires. The logs are of translucent material and asbestos, reinforced with metal, and are made hollow for the insertion of electric bulbs. The bark and cut ends of the logs are artistically designed and hand-painted to give the natural appearance of partially burned logs. By shading the translucent and opaque parts properly and providing for reflection from below, the logs, when illuminated, glow with the natural bright and darker shading of burning wood logs. The fire logs can also be obtained in the form of a large wood log with imitation ash heap, for large old-fashioned fireplaces.

Nicaragua's Soapy Lake.
A curiosity of Nicaragua is a soapy lake. This sheet of water, the lake of Nejpa, contains a strong solution of bicarbonate of potash, bicarbonate of soda, and sulphate of magnesia. It is used as a hair wash, and enjoys a local reputation as a cure for external and internal complaints.

A Simple Way To Remove Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it easily. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arroy from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be flatter, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

FAVORS BUDGET PLAN FOR FAMILY FINANCES

This is the sixth of the articles leading to Thrift Week secured by
W. L. Grieser of the Y. M. C. A.

By A. NELSON DODD.

A great deal has been spoken and written during these days about the necessity of thrift and the importance of forming a habit of saving a portion of one's income for emergencies and for a rainy day. During the war this necessity was emphasized so persistently and so emphatically for patriotic reasons that the people generally of this nation have pretty thoroughly formed the habit and as a result bank deposits are larger than ever before in the history of the country.

Before the war the people of the United States had the reputation of being a spendthrift people, and ranked last in the matter of savings as compared with other nations. Out of every 1,000 persons in Switzerland, 395 had savings accounts. In Norway 468, Denmark 436, Japan 400, France 358, Germany 356, England 302, Australia 300, Belgium 300 and the United States 109. The average amount to each one's credit in Switzerland was $58.47; in Denmark $67.55, and in the United States $47.92.

Yet, the future is encouraging. Every six months shows an increase in savings, and the bank deposits in our own country have increased from 25 billions to 75 billions of dollars since Jan. 1st, 1914. Notwithstanding these facts, however, there is need for an increased effort along these lines. Now that the war is over and there has been a relaxation from war duties, the fear has been expressed that our people are again becoming careless in the matter of saving. This must not be as there is perhaps as great a demand for continuing the savings habit as ever before and even the smallest wage earner should acquire the habit.

Perhaps one reason why there are not more savings accounts is that so many people do not appreciate the value of money. However, they cannot afford to despise the smallest form of saving. Even a lowly quarter amounting to $296.42 if deposited regularly once a week for twenty years and a dollar saved and invested once a week at the rate paid on War Savings Stamps will amount to $1530.50 in the same time. One of the great fallacies is the belief that a large sum of money must be deposited or else it is of no use to save. It is much better to save small amounts regularly and systematically than not to save at all.

An argument frequently heard is "But I can't save a cent. I just can't get ahead of the game." Now the only reason for that sort of talk is that the habit of saving has never been formed by the individual himself. If he has learned how to save and therefore has never formed the habit of saving. To learn how to save we must first learn how to spend. The first dollar out of the pay envelope or the salary check is the easiest dollar to spend. It is also the easiest dollar to save. The great trouble with the most of us is that we do not have any plan. But we owe it to ourselves, to our families and to our nation to formulate a plan and follow it.

A very practical plan that has been suggested is the so-called budget system. It is not a complicated system at all, and is no more nor less than a simple plan of helping you to know just where you are spending your money and from time to time to compare it with your income and your expenditures. It will help you to see where you may be spending your money thoughtlessly, needlessly or recklessly, and will show you where you can save more. Today, with prices so high and every necessity of life so scarce and calls for the exercise of the greatest intelligence and thoughtfulness in making a good plan or budget system very important in this respect.

An illustration of the budget system is given on a monthly basis but it should be varied to suit the individual case. The one here given serves as an example. Before making a budget it will be necessary to keep a detailed account of your expenditures for a period of time, say a month. You will then be in a position to proceed in making your budget.

The simple budget here given will help you to decide what amounts you can afford under each item, but your figures may not absolutely fit your case. Your own experience will show you that these and you will have to make your own figures based on your own experience. Some expenses, such as insurance and taxes, may not come every month, but make your division into twelve parts just the same; then when your bills are paid you can tell whether they are over or under your calculation for the period. You will find the keeping of these accounts as interesting as a game and you will take pride in having a careful record of both income and expenditures. It will also be a source of satisfaction to know each month just how you stand with reference to your expenditures. Above all, you will know exactly what you can afford to spend and you will never need to worry lest you are spending money that ought to go for something else.

"The Allies owe us 450 million dollars' interest on the ten billion other dollars they owe us, but we're not going to collect even the interest just at present. For two reasons: first, we're sorry for them, and second, they haven't got it."—Kansas City Star.

Must England Fight Reds To Retain Hold on India?

"To make a wide impression" on the elements of discontent in the Punjab, according to their commander, Brig. Gen. R. E. H. Dyer, British and Indian troops fired without warning last April on a meeting of Indians at Amritsar, killing five hundred persons and wounding about fifteen hundred in ten minutes. This action is now being investigated by a committee headed by Lord Hunter. The violent outbreaks of disorder in Calcutta, Bombay, and the Punjab, eventuated from the "passive-resistance" movement against the Rowlatt Act, which is directed at revolutionary and anarchical crime, and is made necessary by the attempts to overthrow British rule in India. Agitators seized upon this measure, the London Morning Post tells us, to organize an agitation which "threatened the very existence of British rule in India." Events in Afghanistan, and even in Bolshevik Russia, "may or may not have had a connection with this movement."

In THE LITERARY DIGEST for January 24th, there is an enlightening account of the unrest in India and how it menaces British rule in Asia. The article is accompanied with a map of the Indian trouble center.

The members of the "Grass Widow" company which disbanded in this city Tuesday evening and who were members of the Actors' Equity association, were furnished transportation by that organization and all have left the city. A number went to New York where they state they will readily secure engagements in their profession, while several left for Chicago. One young girl stated that it was her first experience in the show business and informed an Advocate representative that she was going back to her dad's domicile on the farm where she would rather be a Hick from the rural district where the hoot owls roost with the chickens than live along the bright white way where the incandescent lights boosting cigarettes and special brews shut out the stars and where the cats in the tall timbers reminded one of paradise. She said she was going to settle down as a little country lane and forget, forever, her first and only attempt to carve out a career on the stage.

Milady's Boudoir

Good Looking Feet.
It ought to make the coming of the shorter skirt to make a woman careful as to the appearance of her feet or as to the care of them. A woman should, under all circumstances, have a shapely ankle and foot. Exercise and massage will do much for unsightly ankles. It must be understood, however, that if the bone of the ankle is large nothing can be done. It is a simple matter to reduce flesh. It will only require ten or twenty minutes each day to exercise the ankles so they become slender and prepossessing. This is a splendid exercise. Remove the shoes and stockings and sit down with one knee crossed over the other

"While getting into a street car, I met a young man with whom I am acquainted. Should I have allowed him to pay my fare as he attempted?" asked Maude.
"You should pay your own fare," answered the young man, had, however, handed the money to the conductor or had dropped it in the fare box you would have made yourself ridiculous by arguing the matter," said her mother.

THOSE TWO WORDS "DOLLAR BACK" GAVE HIM FAITH

Henry Vandyke, Well Known Milk Dealer, Tells a Striking Nervous Story.

That which gave this endeavor faith in Nerv-Worth has given thousands of fellow sufferers the same faith: Nerv-Worth. Co.—Before taking Nerv-Worth, in fact ever since I was 17, I had serious stomach trouble. Could not eat cabbage, turnips, corn, cakes, nor many vegetables, except with serious distress. When I saw that every Nerv-Worth ad contained the words "Your Dollar Back if the tonic does not help YOU," I concluded that the remedy must have real merit. I bought a bottle of it. The first bottle did me so much good that I felt encouraged to believe it would cure my indigestion. If I kept on, so I took Nerv-Worth until four bottles had gotten in their work against my trouble, and now I am cured. I can digest all those foods which gave me so much distress and can go to bed and sleep like a baby. Nerv-Worth also banished all my nervousness and sleeplessness. I have taken all kinds of medicines. None gave the satisfaction that Nerv-Worth has.

Colds: Take 20 drops, or one-third teaspoonful of Hull's Superlative Compound in about one ounce of water four times per day, at meal time and bed time. Keep this up for a day or two until cold is thoroughly loosened up, then drop down to regular dose of from 10 to 15 drops three times a day. Continue its use until health and strength are restored.

Lungs: As soon as chills and fever come on, go to bed, cover up warm, and take 20 drops of Hull's Superlative Compound in water, four times per day at meal time and bed time for two days. It takes 36 hours to break tonsillitis, then drop down to the regular dose of from 7 to 10 drops until thoroughly well.

Tonsillitis: As soon as fever and sore throat starts, take 20 drops or one-third teaspoonful of Hull's Superlative Compound in water, four times per day at meal time and bed time for two days. It takes 36 hours to break tonsillitis, then drop down to the regular dose of from 7 to 10 drops until thoroughly well.

Directions for Children: Use lighter doses as per directions on the bottle. With these acute troubles I always give my children a dose of castor oil to thoroughly clean out the bowels, then follow with Hull's Superlative Compound.

I have always had the finest results by using Hull's Superlative Compound in my family. I find the best time to break colds, LaGrippe and Tonsillitis is when they start. Don't delay, but keep a bottle of Hull's Superlative Compound in the home. Use as soon as necessary.

Hull's Superlative Compound is a safe remedy to take for children and adults. Purely vegetable, contains Peruvian Bark or Conchona quinine is only an alkaloid of that bark. Golden Seal, nature's vegetable, Juniper berries which made gin so famous as a kidney stimulant and cleanser and other ingredients that act on the liver and digestive organs. ## Our Boys and Girls

It always does my heart good to talk to a certain little mother who hovers over her brood of five boys as watchfully as a mother can. She knows the likes and dislikes of each one and appreciates the peculiar personalities. She tries to become more and more acquainted with her children's personalities every day.

She knows that Horace dislikes apple sauce and that Alvin loves it. She has watched her little family with the training of a professional, and has analyzed their natures thoroughly. She knows her children and she alone can account for their short comings and their failures better than anyone else. She remembers that every child is different and you cannot treat all alike.

Sound, clean teeth bear an important relation to health, strength, endurance, grace and personal appearance. Children should early be taught the importance of preserving the first teeth, as their neglect is almost sure to result in injury to the permanent set.

SANDUSKY MAN ACKNOWLEDGES HE MADE A MISTAKE

Thought There Was Nothing That Would Get His Liver to Acting. Overcome His Constipation, or Relieve the Gas in His Stomach.

Declares the New Medicine, Drego, Has Done All This and More For Him.

"I am free to admit that I made a mistake when I thought my troubles were so stubborn that nothing would overcome them," said Mr. W. E. Deamer of 632 East Adams street, Sandusky, O. Mr. Deamer is a well known moulder of the Farrall, Cheek Foundry company.

"My stomach was in bad condition for after meals I'd fill up with gas and be very uncomfortable from belching and griping pains. I know my liver was sluggish for I often got dizzy and spots would dance before my eyes and my head would ache something awful."

"I frequently had to get up at night on account of my kidneys and had backache and dull pains over my kidneys. My bowels were bound up so that I had to take medicine for that trouble nearly every night."

"As soon as I read about the new medicine Drego I got a bottle and it went right after my troubles and in a few days I could see that it was doing the work I needed. Drego is the best medicine I ever took."

Drego is the juices and extracts of many different roots, herbs, barks and berries, which act on the stomach, kidneys, liver and bowels and purify the blood. It relieves constipation, prevents gas from forming in the stomach, increases the appetite, insures sound, refreshing sleep, banishes catarrh of the head and takes the pain out of rheumatic joints.

All good druggists now sell Drego and it is highly recommended in Newark by Evans Cut Rate Drug store.—Adv.

SNOW AND ICE HAVE NO TERROR FOR THIS MOTHER

Snow and ice and even wet winter days have no terror for the mother who knows the value of Duffee's Cough Syrup in the care of her children. It helps to prevent colds as well as to overcome them, and it is invaluable when the cough appears, soothing and quieting the little sufferer, breaking up the cold and building up the resistance. There isn't a harmful drug in it, either, so it can be given in perfect safety.

Older people find it just as useful as the little ones. In combination with Duffee's Fifty-Fifty Tonic Laxative, it will quickly break up the most severe cold, stop the coughing and remove the soreness. Thirty-five years of success have proved its remarkable value. On sale by grocers and druggists. Keep a bottle in the house and check the cold at the start.—Adv.
